

OBJECT FIGHT CLUB

FIELD STUDY IN HISTORIC NEW CASTLE

Sunday, November 5, 2017, 1:00 – 5:00 p.m.
30 Market Street (The Arsenal), New Castle, DE 19720

Join us for a relaxing Sunday afternoon in Historic New Castle, Delaware, to visit three houses and discuss methods in researching and interpreting historic interiors, buildings, and townscapes. We will tour the Dutch House and Amstel House, both owned by the New Castle Historical Society; and the George Read II House, owned by the Delaware Historical Society. We'll pay special attention to how the sites are working to tell a rich and diverse story about New Castle's past. Then, join us for drinks and complimentary appetizers at Jessop's Tavern. Professor Sarah Wasserman of the UD English Department will join us to discuss how what we see fits into material culture as practiced at UD.

Photos (left to right): George Read II House kitchen by Priscilla Smith, courtesy of the Delaware Historical Society; Dutch House exterior, Amstel House exterior, Amstel House dining room and parlor, courtesy of the New Castle Historical Society.

RSVP REQUIRED BY OCT. 27. FREE AND
OPEN TO UD
GRADUATE STUDENTS

Space is limited, so RSVP early. Send RSVP's to alames@udel.edu.